As a representative hub of the many cultures that have passed through the Iberian Peninsula, taking a walk through the Old Quarter and its medieval layout, dominated by the Castle of Muslim origin, is a journey back in time. Today, its winding streets house a considerable array of complementary attractions, such as museums, street theatre, live music and children's activities...

12 kilometres of coastline with seven beaches, all of them different and all boasting crystalline water: beaches of fine golden sand, family beaches, accessible beaches, calm waters and untouched beaches backed by beautiful natural spaces. All of them are committed to environmental quality management.

Oropesa del Mar offers the perfect combination of relaxation, culture and fun for every age group: guided moonlit tours of the Seaside Greenway, dramatized tours of the Old Quarter, open-air movies, firework displays over the sea, the International Puppet Theatre Festival, and much more.

Taking part in our public festivals will give you an insight into our people, our gastronomy and our folklore.

A range of amusement parks, traditional street markets and different performances are just some of the entertainment options you'll find in Oropesa.
